

WINE TASMANIA

Independent Acclaim for Tasmanian Wines

"Tasmania is rapidly becoming Australia's 'Little Champagne'" - Anthony Rose, The Independent (UK)

" Tasmania is the El Dorado [for pinot noir], and the best is yet to come." - James Halliday, Australian Wine Companion

"Tasmania ... The epicentre of Australian Pinot Noir." - James Halliday

" Tasmania, now and in the future, the keeper of the Holy Grail [for sparkling wines]." - James Halliday, Australian Wine Companion

The wines reflect the pristine atmosphere of the Island." - Jancis Robinson, MW (UK)

"Tasmania is not just sparkling wine country – it is sparkling, riesling and pinot noir country." - Tom Stevenson (UK)

"Tasmania offers some of Australia's finest Pinot Noirs, Rieslings with more finesse than anything grown outside Germany's Mosel; Sauvignon Blancs that are challenging New Zealand's best." - Tom Stevenson (UK)

"... Riesling, Sauvignon Blanc, Chardonnay, Pinot Gris and Pinot Noir all have a bright future here." - Tim Atkin MW (UK)

"The island of Tasmania has emerged to become the new holy grail in the quest for great Australian pinot." - Chuck Hayward (US)

"Tassie has long rated with me as one of the best places, if not the best, in Australia for Pinot Noir." - Huon Hooke

"Tasmania is synonymous with the best Australian sparklers." - Ralph Kyte- Powell

"The most exciting wine area in Australia." - Paul Henry, Wine Australia

"Tasmania's cool climate and the small production, meticulously high quality philosophy has the State already gaining a very favourable international reputation for aromatic white wines, Pinot Noir and, of course, sparkling wines." - Penny Boothman, Wine 100 Magazine

"The cool temperatures mean Tasmania's wines are closest in style to those of regions such as Champagne and Burgundy in France, and so they are naturally elegant. Pinot noir, chardonnay and sauvignon blanc all thrive here: sparkling wines are outstanding and cabernet sauvignon can be stellar in warmer years." - Winsor Dobbin, OUTThere Inflight Magazine

"Home to some of the world's finest sparklers, exemplary pinot and the odd trout, Tasmania offers a unique wine-drive experience." - Ken Gargett, Gourmet Traveller Wine

"Tasmania's cool climate and naturally high acidity are its trump cards in the world of sweet wines." - Tyson Stelzer

"Tasmania is fast becoming Australia's Champagne." - Greg Duncan Powell
